OUR GRADED SCHOOL

Should Receive Attention From Every One and All Work Together to Secure It.

Since our last article appeared touching upon the question of a public graded school for our town, we have talked with Supt. Parker and he assures us that he will give his hearty support to such a movement.

Union College will also work in unison, and already that institution has arranged to strike out (after this year) all the lower branches and teach only the Normal, Academic and Collegiate branches, which will be giving a clear field to a graded school, and we have suggested before the plan proposed will make it cheaper to the parents than the course now adopted.

The people of this community want to give their children the advantage of a good education, and we know of no better way and no way that would reduce the expense so much as to establish a free graded school and have it continue for nine months each year, have a four year course of high school studies taught, and when the pupils have graduated from the graded school they are then properly fitted to enter college, business, or to take up professional work.

We cannot understand why this has been overlooked so long, but we believe that Superintendent Parker means to take the matter up, and with the assistance of our Board of School Trustees, together with the citizens of our town, it will not be a hard matter to have one of the best schools to be found anywhere, in full operation in Barbourville.

We want to state here that we are ready at any time to render whatever assistance we can to the cause and feel confident that if every one who feels themselves interested would only say a word favorable to the movement and discuss with the school board the idea of having a graded school, it would be but a short time until we would realize just what we all recognize would be a grand step forward in educational advancement.

Let's not allow this matter to drag along and nobody do anything, but let's awaken and take steps to secure a graded school system, and we would never want to return to the present system again.

AN EDITOR'S APPEAL

To Brother Publishers in Behalf Of The Lost Child of Dr. Byers of Seelye, Ind.

If the editor of every paper in the central west will republish these lines there is no question but what Dr. S. L. Byers, of Seelye, Ind., will recover his little son who was stolen from his home one year ago last May. Dr. Byers has spent his entire resources in search of his child, and unless the big-hearted members of the press come to his assistance his son will grow up an outlaw and an outcast among the lowest people of the earth. It is a cause that should appeal to everyone, and no father reading these lines can do so without a quickening of the heart and a sympathetic thrill. It is believed that if this article is reprinted in the newspapers it will form an endless chain that will uncover the lost boy's concealment and return him to his dismasted parents. In doing this the professor of journalism will be fulfilling one of its highest destinies. Publishers whose circulations touch the Wabash, Ohio and Mississippi valleys are especially requested to reproduce this story of the lost child as Dr. Byers believes his boy is now on some houseboat waiting to take the road in the Spring. There is a reward of $500, awaiting any information that will lead to the boy's recovery. No questions will be asked and if the abductor himself would deliver the boy to his parents he would not be molested. The bereaved parents are heartbroken with grief and want only their child. If each journal well reprint these lines, they will travel to every exchange table in the United States and bring back to a wretched home a child who is now in doubt suffering with cold, unfed and wretched to a degree. Think of what your own feelings would be under similar circumstances! This appeal is indited originally by a publisher who saw Dr. Byers only once, has no personal interest in his request other than the bond of sympathy that makes the world akin, and is inspired from the belief that the lost boy can only be found through the united effort of the country press of which he is proud to be a member. His recovery will be a triumph in advertising and no editor whose heart is placed right will refuse this appeal. Remember, it may be your child next!

The following is a description of the lost boy:

DESCRIPTION.

Richmond Byers, if alive, was 6 ears old last July, is of light complexion, has gray eyes, left eye noticeably crossed, has a small V shaped nick in the edge of the left ear, has a sharp chin and a narrow projecting forehead. He is rather small for his age and is unusually bright and intelligent, taking after the manner of a boy much older.

Dr. Byers has searched among the roving bands that frequent the United States and believes that his son can be found among traveling junk dealers, so called horse traders or movers. He does not think the boy was stolen by genuine gypsies. He thinks he was taken by a wandering band that used him for the purpose of beggar in towns along the route. (Evchangers please copy.)

Kentuckians to Honor Foster's Memory.

The second day of "Home Coming Week of Kentuckians" Louisville, June 13 to 17, will be known as Foster Day, when a statue of the author of "My Old Kentucky Home" will be unveiled. The money to pay for this statue is being contributed by the school children of Kentucky. The children of the Louisville public schools have already contributed several hundred dollars. Prof. Jas. H. Faqua, Sr., State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has issued a letter to all city and county superintendents urging them to urge the teachers in their jurisdictions to explain the plan to their pupils and take up collections. If every school in the state will raise only a few dollars there will be enough money on hand to pay for the statue, which will cost about $6,000.

Stay Of Execution.

The Supreme Court Monday granted a motion of attorneys for James B. Howard for a stay of execution for thirty days and Howard will not go to the penitentiary to-day under the order granted when the case was decided against him. The stay admits of time to prepare a petition for rehearing.

CAMPBELL

Offered Bookwaller $25,000 to Permit Him to Have Taylor Kidnapped from Indiana.

(By Louis Ludlow.)

Representative Fred Landis, of Indiana, has in his desk at the Capitol a lengthy signed statement by Mayor Charles A. Bookwaller, of Indianapolis, in which Mayor Bookwaller gave graphic details of an effort which he said was made by Tom Campbell, attorney for the Goebelites, to permit him to permit former Gov. W. S. Taylor, of Kentucky, to be kidnapped from Indianapolis. According to Bookwaller's formal charge, during his first term as Mayor he was invited by a man whom he supposed to be his friend to come to Cincinnati. When he got there he was introduced to Tom Campbell. Subsequently he was invited to dine at his friend's house, and Campbell, without Bookwaller's knowledge, was invited also.

After dinner, the statement continues, the host left Campbell and Bookwaller together, and Campbell then offered B. Okwaller $25,000 if he would allow Goebel sleuths to come to Indianapolis and take Taylor away. Bookwaller immediately repudiated the offer, and when he returned home he ordered a strong police guard placed about Taylor's house, and warned Taylor to keep indoors. By request of Mr. Landis, Mayor Bookwaller has furnished him a detailed statement of the occurrence.

Mr. Landis is a warm friend of Caleb Powers and has taken a part in raising money in Indiana to help defray the cost of Powers' trial. He proposes to make a speech on the Kentucky situation and to read Bookwaller's statement to the House.

"I am sure," he said, "that will do much to fix national attention on Democratic methods in Kentucky and to show to the world what kind of men are after Powers." —Louisville Post.

Cross-tie Freight Rates.

The Kentucky Railroad Commission has fixed the freight rate on cross ties at the same figure which the railroads now charge for shipping lumber. Heretofore the freight rate was so high on cross-ties that the producers could not pay it, and was thereby compelled to sell his ties to a local railroad. Under the rate as fixed by the Commission, those who make cross-ties and those who ship them, will get a very much better price than they could originally have gotten on account of this reduction in the freight rate.

Large Oil Well.

Yamacraw, Ky., Jan. 26, 1906. Editor Advocate.

DEAR SIR:—You may insert these few lines in your paper if you wish. On the night of January 26th, at 11 o'clock, while drilling for oil on Wolf creek, in the edge of Wayne county, near Whitley, I struck a flow of gas that blew the tools out of the hole and we cannot do anything with it at all. Practical oil men say it is the largest gas well in Kentucky. It will make ten million feet per feet.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

Crude Thoughts as they Fall from the Editorial Pen. Pleasant Evening Reveries.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as they Read the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

That is not home, where day by day I wear the busy hours away;
That is not home, where lonely night Prepares me for the toils of light;
'Tis hope, and joy, and memory, give A home in which the heart can live,
It is a presence undefined.

Overshadowing the conscious mind: Where love and duty sweetly blend
To consecrate the name of friend;
Where's thou art, is home to me,
A home without thee cannot be.

THE world need never shed a tear for its sainted dead: They are safe as the harvest is when the farmer has bound it into sheaves and stored it away, or as the roses are when the gardener has wrapped their roots in straw and housed them from the storm. They are as safe as the larks that fly singing from the green earth out of reach of the huntsman's snare and the aim of the cruel sportsman. They are safe as warriors who march beneath worn battle-flags no more, but sit down with conquerors to festivals of song and wine. They are safe as young lambs are when shepherds fold them from the blast and carry them over rough places in tender arms. Weep for the living all you choose; let your tears be unashamed over the dying bed where your darlings lie like wreaths of fading snow beneath the glace or death; but if you believe in God and hold any faith in heaven, shed not your tears for the blessed and happy dead. Christianity gives the lie to its belief when it garbs itself in and mourns without comfort for those who have exchanged the inn for palace, the wilderness for the land of peace and plenty.

EXAMPLE FOR YOUNG MEN.

1905 has now passed into history. No year in history of the world has left to our young men brighter examples of the old maxim that "Honesty is the best policy." No other year has seen the downfall of so many men holding high position in society, in financial circles and even in church. Men who lived in palaces and were next to worshipped by their fellow men at the dawn of 1905, were behind prison bars when the old year bid us farewell. The heads of many of our great insurance companies and banking houses, have in their desire to "get rich quick" stepped aside from the path of honesty, with the result that never fails to follow such a course, and the new year finds them disgraced and dishonored. Among the most striking examples in this class is that of Prof. N. C. Dougherty, superintendent of schools in the beautiful city of Peoria, Illinois, a position he held for 27 years. Not only in the schools to which he was attached did he services as an educator in demand, but high schools, Y. M. C. A., conventions, college and teachers' associations felt extremely honored when they could induce Prof. Dougherty to speak before them upon educational matters, and one of his strange points was in trying to impress upon the minds of young men the necessity of honesty and uprightness.

But that is all ended now, Prof. Dougherty's days as an educator, in what we may call a positive manner, are ended, his silvery voice will no longer urge young men and women to live up to the highest ideals of right and duty. But Dougherty's career as an educator is not yet over, though his teachings now will be rather negative than positive, by example that precept; the lesson he is now giving should sink deep into the hearts and memories of all young men, as it is of tremendous significance to all, for it demonstrates the terrible effects of disobeying the mandates of honesty and straying from the paths of uprightness.

The spectacle is a sad one to be witnessed in a moment, as it were, from the high places he held in the confidence and esteem of his fellow men, honored by positions that gave him place among the highest, and a palatial home with every comfort, a loving family circle where all was love and happiness, a host of admiring friends, respected and loved by everybody, the idol of hundreds of teachers and thousands of pupils, all are gone, he has exchanged them for the four walls of a prison cell and in a little while he will lose even his name and will be known simply by number. Even the dollars for which he sacrificed so much, they too are gone, everything is swept clean and the wife of his bosom will have to leave her comfortable home and go out into the world worse than widowed, to all intents and purposes a pauper; and the friends who have loved him and upheld him must all suffer, not from anything criminal they have done, but from the confidence and friendly feeling they have for him, and several of those who were his closest friends may be stripped of reputation and fortune simply because they were too confident of his integrity.

Young men, the career of Prof. Dougherty furnishes a frightful example of the necessity of keeping in the narrow path of honesty. It is dangerous to turn to the right or left; beware of the first step outside, it is the crucial test; without taking the first step are safe, but when you once leave the right path you never know where your wanderings may lead you to.

SENATOR SHADON'S BILL.

Senator Shadon has a bill before the General Assembly which ought to become a law. Everybody who has traveled on excursion trains in almost any part of the State, or on trains crowded with persons returning from cities after some incident which attracted multitudes to it, witnessing, knows that a few noisy individuals are frequently the cause of grave disorders, and become in some instances a menace to the rest of the passengers.

Disorderly persons may, however, board any train any day. They are difficult to handle. They are often armed, and besides carry packages of liquors internally, if not externally, too, not calculated in their actual frame of mind or physical condition to promote peace. The half-drunken, quarrelsome man is proverbially difficult to handle. The Kentucky semi-drunkard beast is particularly nasty.

Women and girls, besides suffering from his pernicious gestures and fiery threats, have often to endure vile and unbecoming language from the inebriated bully. When a law-abiding passenger purchases a ticket he buys the right to travel between certain points free from the annoyances of lawless people.

Senator Shadon's bill proposes the appointment of railroad policemen for several railroad corporations for service upon their trains when necessary. The policemen are to be appointed by the Governor upon designation by the company desiring such officers, and the corporation is to bear the expense in connection with the appointment and service. The policemen thus appointed shall have authority to make arrests and serve papers in connection therewith upon railroad trains only and in cases growing out of such arrests. They shall not serve any paper which the law now provides shall be served by another officer.

A good bill is the Shadon act, and it ought to pass.—Louisville Herald

UNHAPPY, EXCEPT HOLLERIN'.

The Mountain Advocate, the people of Knox county and of the mountains generally, with the few outside of Louisville who read the Evening Post, now know why the mountain people come in for its vituperative extravaganzas. "We find always," confesses the Post, "that the hit dog bollers." No news to Louisville's citizenry, well acquainted with the origin of the meanly bollers that have for years, almost without interruption, proceeded from the Post's sanctum. It is interesting, however, to have even a howler admit that his ribs are so often tickled by the rocks of popular indignation.—Louisville Herald.

KENTUCKY LEADS.

For 1905 Kentucky led the United States in acreage and value of its tobacco crop. The total acreage is estimated at 275,874 acres and the total production of all kinds of tobacco at 228,975,420 pounds, the average yield per acre being placed at 839 pounds. An average price of 7¢ per pound would realize $16,928,289.

There is a chance that the State will be rid of many of the objectionable features in the present election laws under which so much election theory has been practiced. A committee of the State Bar Association, composed of both Democratic and Republican lawyers, have drafted a new law and submitted it to the
